Verbal Description

Part of a modelled censer. Shows the toes of a left foot. The toes are a solid slab. Grooves mark the divisions between toes, and incision outlines the nails. Basically life-sized, though not proportionate. The slab was joined to the larger whole with a 0.29 cm thick layer of clay. All surfaces irregular, gouged; finger impressions on underside. Some clay scraps stuck here & there. A few flat burning facets on edges, attachment areas. Central cone in thick areas only. No burning, slip, paint
